

Peacock butterflies have bright, blue eyespots on their wings; what do they use them for?

They scare away predators

When Large White butterflies are still caterpillars, they are poisonous; what causes this?

By eating mustard oils

Some Red Admirals stay in the UK during the winter; some travel from other countries. Which 2 continents do Red Admirals migrate from?

North Africa and Europe.

Brimstone caterpillars eat leaves from trees. What leaves do Brimstone caterpillars eat?

Buckthorn and Alder Buckthorn

What do male Meadow Brown butterflies look out for when they patrol their territories?

Other butterflies

Sometimes Gatekeepers develop different patterns on their wings; what causes this to happen?

Extreme temperatures

Comma butterflies have distinctive wing patterns. What can comma butterflies pretend to be to avoid predators?

Dead leaves

