

Planning Policy

From: David Moldon <dmd@...>
Sent: 13 September 2018 10:19
To: Planning Policy
Subject: Comments on the Issues and Options document

September 13th 2018

As someone who registered an interest in building my own home back in 2015, I am somewhat disappointed in not receiving ANY information regarding this chance build a home I want to live in.

The problem not only in The Test Valley but Nationwide is a shortage of building plots for self build, and consequently when they do crop up they are ridiculously expensive and go to developers.

Could you give planning permission in sensitive areas for self build only, obviously complying with local design requirements and building materials?

The right to build is something we all should be able to do, enhancing the building stock of this Country, and not just littering the countryside with boring slums of the future, built by greedy volume house builders.

I look forward to seeing your proposals.

David Moldon